Dear Harold,

I am sorry we did not meet when I was in the United States, but as Ian told you I was working most of the time. I also took on the extra chore of following Anderson for three days which further reduced my vacation time.

I was fascinated by the details you gave concerning your use of the Freedom of Information Act. Clearly it will be difficult for you to do one article for us, although I think it is worth trying. I am writing to Patrick Brogan, our chief Washington correspondent, suggesting that he get in touch with you and work out the arrangements.

I hope your health will soon improve.

Yours ever,

Louis
